The Board them adjourned. CHRISTMAS CELEBRATIONS .- The Car's mas calcurations that have thus far taken place have been ususually interesting this year, and the custom of decorating the courches has, if possible, been entered into more heartily than ver before. The churches have all presented a handsome appearance, and large crowds of interested speciators have been present at all of the exercises. Probably there has Lean more taste and judgment di-played this than as any previous year. Certainly the Union Presbyterian Church last night, when the Sunday School estabration took place, presented a brilliant appearance. There was evidenty so attempt to decorate the cherch, but it emed as if all effort had been concentrated on he platform, where all the school presents, conteres of all kinds of useful and instructive ads for the scholars wars stored. There was on this platform a large temple, unlike the one used on a fermer ecossion, made of vergreed, surmoneted with a steeple of the ame, oromicofed with blight fairies, herpe, lutering access, &c. Loride could be seen a atce vaso, twined with evergreen, concerning twing floweres in July bloom, Humicated d r fleeted by mirrors. On either side of derest birds of plants and flawers. THE REFORM CLUB -The rooms of the Reform Ulub, on Fairtex street, were again crowded last night, when the regular business meeting was held

Arrangements for another celebration on New Year's day were perfected, and an invitation from the Jonadabs of Washington to participate with them is the wa e't night services was declined on that account.

Names are being very rapidly added to the list of members, and the club attracts more attention and is more taked about than any other institution in town. It is expected that the roll will reach fully seven hundred names by New Year's.

THE COLD SNAP .- The weather still continues expessively cold in the merning and at night, with only a slight moderation in the middle of the day. At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer stood as low as twenty degrees.-CITY SCHOOL BOARD. - The regular meeting The river had considerable light ice upon the surface which, however, had mostly drifted out of the decks. It will take several such days to close the river to navigation. The casal was e wered from bank to bank with ice, too thin however to bear a weight, even that of the anxi ous small boy, who has been keeping a sharp bekout, and fixing up his skates for business.
